

Durable Kick Shields by Danger Equipment – Train Harder

At Danger Equipment, we know that serious training demands serious equipment. That's why our premium kick shields are designed to take the hardest hits while helping you train with confidence, safety, and intensity. Whether you're practicing powerful roundhouse kicks, knee strikes, or heavy combos, our kick shields are engineered to absorb impact, protect the holder, and enhance performance for fighters at every level.

Combat sports like Muay Thai, MMA, and kickboxing rely on power and precision — and that starts with proper training tools. Our kick shields offer a large striking surface with multi-layered, high-density foam padding that cushions even the most powerful blows. This allows fighters to practice full-force kicks and knees without compromising the safety of their training partners or coaches.

Each Danger Equipment kick shield is crafted with durable, reinforced materials — including top-grade synthetic or genuine leather — ensuring long-lasting performance even in high-intensity gyms. Built to withstand repeated impact, our shields resist tearing, deforming, or wearing out prematurely, making them a reliable choice for professional gyms, dojos, and home training setups.

Comfort and control are key. Our kick shields are designed with strong, reinforced handles and adjustable arm straps that provide a secure, ergonomic grip for pad holders. This allows trainers or teammates to maintain control during powerful sessions and safely absorb kicks, punches, elbows, and knees from any angle. Some models also include extra wrist or forearm support to reduce strain during extended use.

Danger Equipment offers various sizes and styles of kick shields to match different training needs — from lightweight models for quick drills to heavy-duty shields for advanced striking practice. Whether you're building speed, testing power, or working on technique, our kick shields are versatile tools that elevate your training routine.

Fighters around the world rely on Danger Equipment for high-quality training gear that keeps up with the intensity of their sport. With availability across Asia, Ecuador, and Europe, we've built a global reputation for crafting reliable, performance-driven fight gear — and our kick shields are no exception.
